Building for Tomorrow

It seems only fitting and proper that the Illinois College of Optometry should again be expanding its clinical and educational facilities as it strives for optometric excellence and "builds for the future." The history of this institution is filled with mergers, expansions, and other facility and name changes as times dictated.

ICO traces its roots to 1872 when the pioneer institution of the Northern Illinois College of Ophthalmology and Otology was founded. By the 1900's, when the first optometry laws were enacted, the college was primarily engaged in teaching new refractive techniques.

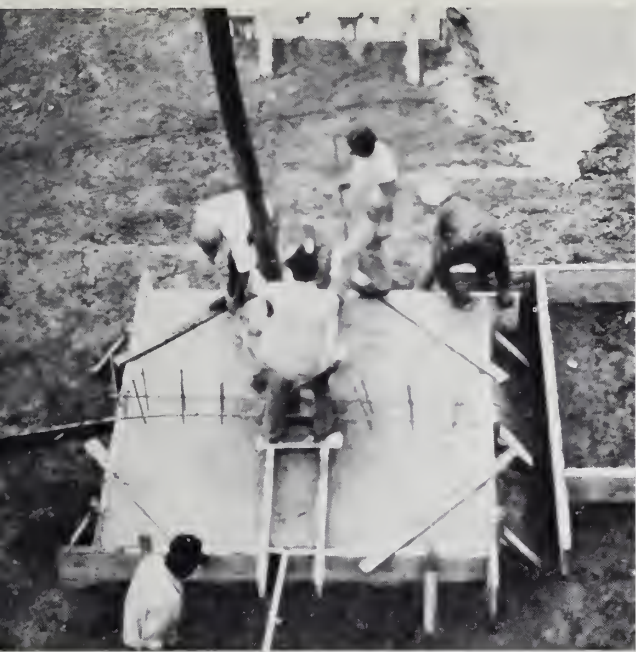

In 1926, the school merged with the Needles Institute of Optometry and was renamed the Northern Illinois College of Optometry. By 1937 the Monroe College of Optometry had been founded and came to be known as the Chicago College of Optometry in 1947.

The bulk of students entering CCO at this time consisted of WWII veterans returning to school under the G.I. Bill. In an effort to accomplish its goal of becoming the leader in optometric research, the school expanded from two structures to a seven building campus. The former estate of a senator served as its clinics and dormitories.

below: North Side Clinic circa 1955

Both the Northern Illinois College of Optometry and the Chicago College of Optometry became noted for their excellence in optometric education. In 1955, the two schools decided to combine resources, and the Illinois College of Optometry was founded.

Today, over a quarter of a century later, expansion is once again underway. ICO's plans include new lecture halls, a new library, athletic facilities and clinic improvements. ICO is changing for the future as it returns to its position as the flagship institution of optometry.

*'Twas a night late in October, out in the back lot,
 Vice Pres. Conway broke ground in just the right spot.
 The big wigs all watched with their eyes all agleam,
 As construction was to start on ICO's dream.
 The students toasted their glasses and gave ' a big cheer,
 Drinking wine and champagne but mostly just beer.*

Captains of the New Ship

The 1983 Graduating Class of the Illinois College of Optometry has experienced many changes at the College during the past year. It would be my wish that the experience would be valued as part of your education, since a practitioner must constantly be aware of and willing to change with the times, be it professional development, office location, equipment, economics or political. We at I.C.O. dedicate ourselves to the best optometric education and business knowledge for your future and our profession. The best to all of you in your endeavor to care for your patients. Help us as optometrists to continue to lead the profession of optometry throughout the world.

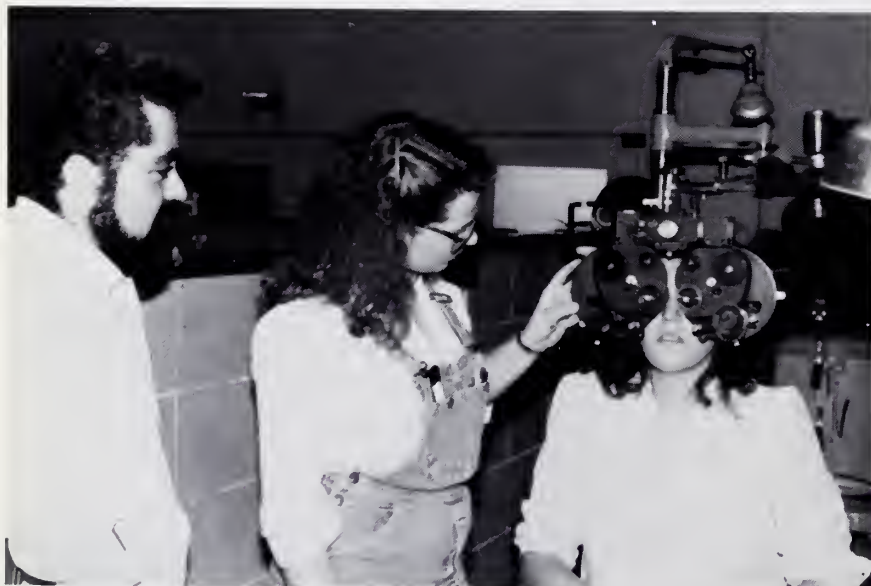

*Boyd B. Banwell, O.D., D.O.S.
President*

The Illinois College of Optometry is a fun place to be. Although I am not speaking from the perspective of the student, I know that in future months and years you will agree with me. To many of you, the constant change during this academic year has caused some inconveniences, some misunderstandings, and some surprises. However, the excitement of being on a campus where construction is taking place, curricular changes are being implemented, and planning for the future is occurring, is stimulating and will bring fond memories in future years. As Dean, it is my desire that each student be challenged and prepared to be the best optometrist possible. Congratulations to the Class of 1983 on their accomplishments and my best wishes for the future.

Faces of the future

Some things never change

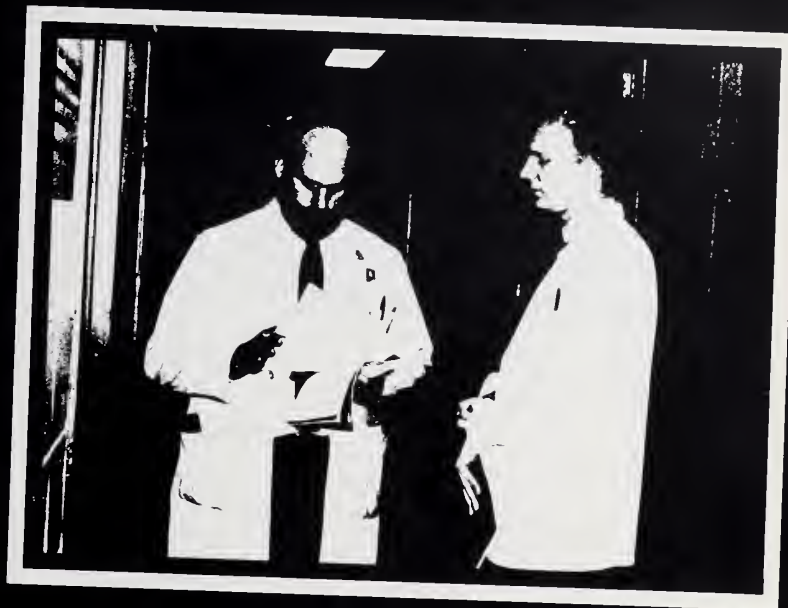

Some things around here just never change ... no shows, delicious Brady Hall food, stimulating lectures, the faculty, Mr. Weil, confusion at the front desk, preparing for National Boards, alert security, the student lounge ... and they probably never will.

Board of Trustees

ICO's Board of Trustees establishes policy for governing the institution and the operation of the college. Members have diversified areas of expertise with a majority being licensed optometrists as specified by the by-laws of the school. Each Trustee is elected to a three year term and the board meets twice a year.

Fellowship Program

This year ICO hosted three clinic fellows. Each chose an area of major and minor interest in optometric specialties. Fellows are required to provide advanced specialty care in their area. Each fellow spends approximately 32-38 hours a week at ICO working as a module instructor in ICO's clinic, attending an advanced clinical seminar lecturing and teaching labs and research.

G. Bekritsky O.D.

S. Beckerman O.D.

Residency Program

West Side Veteran's Administration Medical Center residency program provides postgraduate education to prepare an optometrist to practice in a hospital or other multidisciplinary setting. The one year program gives extensive exposure to an unusual variety of ocular and ocular pathologies. Emphasis is placed on direct patient care as well as on contact lenses, low vision, electrodiagnostics, ultrasonography, fluorescein angiography and photography. The resident attends clinical conferences and rounds at the Univ. of Illinois Eye and Ear Infirmary and at the WSVA Medical Center. An opportunity is also provided to view a full range of ophthalmic surgeries and procedures. Time is also spent at ICO in the specialty clinics of the resident's choice. The resident is also expected to provide lectures to students in ocular pathology and physical diagnosis and to provide a manuscript suitable for publication from clinical cases or research.

"The class of '86 is a diverse and enthusiastic group of individuals. We are unique and learning together as a cohesive group. We know our classmates today are our friends and colleagues of tomorrow. While at ICO we hope to expand our general knowledge, experience new relationships, and develop our optometric skills.

We know that optometry school will be very demanding and the time will pass quickly, but in the end we know our efforts will be worthwhile. The class of '86 is a proud group and will strive harder everyday to bring more respect to our profession of optometry."

"The Class of 1985 is truly enjoying it's second year at ICO. Each student is becoming rapidly exposed to the clinic and what optometry is all about by fulfilling the clinical observation requirements and learning valuable patient care techniques through Pre-clinic lectures and lab. As opposed to recent graduating classes, we find ourselves in a very exciting and favorable position for the enrichment of our education. This has come about by the positive changes of the new addition of the building, expanded externship programs, revised curriculum, and new administrative appointments. It is with great enthusiasm that the class of 1985 looks forward to our future in the profession of optometry."

"As the structure of the new building takes shape, the class of 1984 is also taking on a new form. Especially due to our increased clinical activities, the foundation that has taken two years to mold is now solidifying and positive results can definitely be seen. Due to our diversity and leadership abilities, the class of '84 has become instrumental in providing service to ICO at all levels: academically, clinically and socially. As we look ahead to our fourth year and graduation, we hope we can continue this peak level of involvement and enthusiasm enabling us to pass our new found knowledge onto future classes here at ICO and ultimately the profession of optometry."

CLASS OF 1983

When we pick up this book five, ten, or more years from now, many memories will be rekindled in our hearts. We will not remember ICO's difficult transitional years, the administrative changes and ensuing confusion, the loss of faculty, as well as some classmates. We will remember the friendships we have made and miss faces that are familiar to us now. We will remember our first sweaty-palmed day of clinic, the people that helped pull us through and faculty such as E. R. Tennant. We will remember, Brady Hall for it's camaraderie and not its food. The memories that will linger with us will be pleasant ones and it is to these memories that this book is dedicated.

CONTACT LENS SOCIETY

In 1982-83 the Contact Lens Society membership consisted of 245 3rd and 4th year students. Through the generosity of the contact lens manufacturing and supplying companies, as well as various laboratories and solution distributors, various presentations were presented throughout the year. A generous supply of refreshments followed the educational seminars consisting of pizza, beer, and pop. Each meeting left those attending with some current knowledge on contact lens products, a good time, and a full belly. Our thanks to all who attended and assisted in making this our most eventful year.

OMEGA DELTA

Omega Delta, the oldest national optometric fraternity in the country, had a very modest beginning back in 1917 at Northern Illinois College of Optometry. It was founded there "to bring about a closer bond between the students." Today the Alpha chapter at ICO has preserved this function with membership open to all students. It primarily provides a social escape from the pressures of exams and the monotony of classes and allows students a chance to strengthen friendships begun at school.

Some of the events Omega Delta sponsored this year in and around Chicago included: horseback riding, a hayride and bonfire, a night at Second City, downhill and cross country skiing, and ice skating. Omega Delta also joined forces with PTU one night to see Mickey Rooney and Ann Miller in "Sugar Babies" at the Arie Crown Theater.

For those of you that will be around ICO next year, Omega Delta wishes to extend an invitation to you to join us for one of our future events.

PHI THETA UPSILON

Phi Theta Upsilon is a national optometric fraternity whose emphasis is to promote professionalism as well as acting as a social organization. The membership is made up of all four classes, and it offers the opportunity to get to know those who may not be in your academic year.

During the year PTU, has offered a variety of activities from Zanies comedy showcase, a combined Christmas party with WOSA, "Sugar Babies" at the Arie Crown Theater, and "A Christmas Carol" at the Goodman Theater. Throughout the year PTU members can look forward to additional social events and continuing fellowship with other ICO students.

S.V.O.S.H.

Student Volunteer Optometric Service to Humanity (SVOSH) is a student affiliate of a national organization of optometrists dedicated to providing much needed vision care to under-developed areas of the world. This year over 100 ICO students helped SVOSH serve people in both the U.S. and abroad. Twenty-six students travelled to parts of this country to provide vision screenings and twenty-three students went to places such as Mexico, Columbia, Peru, Haiti and Nicaragua to participate in vision programs. About 10,000 pairs of used glasses were given away on these trips.

BETA SIGMA KAPPA

Beta Sigma Kappa is an international honor fraternity which is dedicated to upholding professional optometry and to improving community awareness of proper eye care. As an organization we sponsor several vision screenings throughout the Chicago and suburban areas. Our fraternity is also responsible for the funding of several promising senior research projects each year. This year Beta Sigma Kappa has a membership of well over 70 people, including over 50 new members. As in the past, BSK will host its annual spring awards banquet to recognize each of the new members.

The Society for the Advancement of Full Scope Optometry (SAFSO) is ICO's newest organization. SAFSO seeks to reinforce and supplement particular aspects of optometric education. Its emphasis includes the diagnosis, treatment, and management of anterior segment disease, ocular emergency situations, low vision conditions, and ocular pharmacology. Further, SAFSO advocates the general recognition of full scope optometric practice. In short, SAFSO hopes to foster a recognition, in both the optometric and non-optometric communities, of the unique blend of skills that today's O.D. has come to possess.

PENNSYLVANIA CLUB

The Pennsylvania Club is composed of students from Pennsylvania and also those who are interested in practicing in the state. The purpose of the organization is to keep students informed with what is happening with the Pennsylvania Optometric Association. Membership entitles each student to the monthly issue of the "Keystoner," which is the P.O.A. newsletter. Open lines of communication are held to keep students aware of available practice opportunities in the state.

N.O.S.A.

The National Optometric Student Association is a student organization affiliated with the National Optometric Association. The NOSA was established in 1968 for the purpose of increasing minority manpower in the field of optometry.

The NOSA has a chapter at most schools of optometry throughout the country and has been in existence at ICO since 1977. The NOSA is involved in a variety of activities which enhance the field of optometry. Such activities include vision screenings in area schools and senior citizen facilities, hosting an annual minority optometric career day, and a newly formed plan in which students may visit ICO and spend a day with NOSA members in class, lab, or clinic.

IOWA CLUB

The Iowa Club is composed of students from Iowa, as well as those with an interest in practicing in Iowa. The purpose of the club is to keep the students aware of optometric activities in Iowa. The club is affiliated with the Iowa Optometric Association and assists the I.O.A. when student input is needed.

The biggest event planned for the year is the student meeting held in conjunction with I.O.A. convention in the spring. This gathering allows the students to meet with the I.O.A. leaders and listen to their suggestions. Several parties are planned each year also. These allow the underclassmen to mingle with the upperclassmen, as well as for all to have fun.

GOLD KEY

Members: K. Andrus, K. Blair, R. Castaldo, F. Hurd, M. Kline, R. Robinson, J. Peters, J. Young

Gold Key is an international optometric honor society which is the highest leadership award attainable by an optometric student. The purpose of Gold Key is to recognize upperclassmen who have demonstrated outstanding professional and ethical attitudes through leadership in their class, college, and profession. Five percent of the third year class and ten percent of the fourth year class may hold membership. All of the candidates are chosen for this lifetime membership by nomination and ballot.

Major projects include assisting in the planning and production of the first year orientation and organization of the reception immediately following graduation.

This club is dedicated to the many proud "weekend warriors" of ICO and their 100,000 mile magnificent road-cruising machines. For those who have road-tripped that extra mile and laugh at planned obsolescence.

Club theme: The good, the bad, and the ugly.

Club cheer: Bombs away.

OMEGA EPSILON PHI

Members: P. Kurtz, F. Greteman, K. O'Daniel, R. Edwards, G. Bleeker, K. Foon, M. Lekas, R. Savoy, S. Nottleson, M. Mewborne, M. North, A. Pulliam, M. Montgomery, M. Hennen, T. Naberhaus, M. Mlynski, N. Blase, J. Colgain, J. Smith

ICO'S most ethical and professional fraternity on campus. It's members are of the highest caliber and quality. The members never place social activities first but instead strive to enhance their professional abilities. Their civic pride is exemplified by the beautiful south Michigan fraternity mansion. Among the many projects of 1982, "Liquor for the Less Fortunate," was one of the most successful.

WISCONSIN CLUB

The Wisconsin Optometric Association is the most active state club at ICO. Membership is open to all students, and those students thinking about practicing in Wisconsin are especially encouraged to join. The club helps to keep the students in touch with optometry in Wisconsin and also gives them a chance to take time from their busy schedules to have a little fun.

Some of the events that took place this year included the beer and brat fry, sponsoring optometric speakers, discussions with members of the Wisconsin State Board Examiners, and various traditional Wisconsin club parties. The club's activities are both enjoyable and educational.

C.S.I.O.A.

The Collegiate Society of the Illinois Optometric Association is one of the twenty-three state societies that make up the Illinois Optometric Association. As a society, student involvement with both state and school activities is encouraged.

The society has been active in supporting the lobbying effort to enact a diagnostic pharmaceutical agent law in Illinois.

CSIOA sponsors educational and social events throughout the academic year. Many of these activities include speakers from all over the United States, ski trips, LOGO frame workshops, and enjoying Chicago's theatres. Membership is open to all optometry students.

STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The Student Association is an organization dedicated to the preservation of student representation in the ICO bureaucracy. While offering a multitude of services to the student community, it also attempts to address concerns of the administration.

Comprised of thirty-one members in all, SA includes eleven directorships, class representatives, and academic committee representatives. Guidance is provided by the President, Executive Vice President, Secretary-Treasurer, and immediate past President.

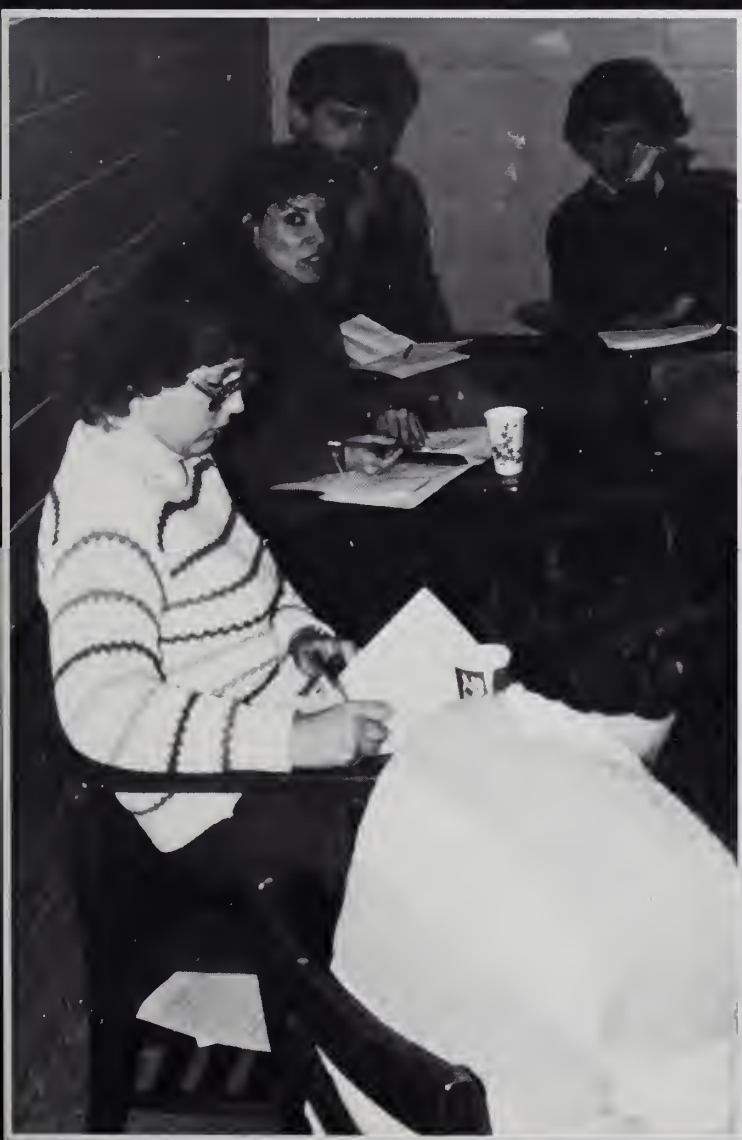

Busy the year round, SA sponsors a variety of social and academic events including the Fall and Spring picnics, equipment fair, used book sale, Winter dance, the student newspaper, The Focus, and the yearbook, Insights. Intramurals, with the support of the Alumni Assoc., has offered aerobics, self-defense seminars, and coed sports. The Student Notetaking service has undergone several changes striving to increase services to the students. AOSA provides numerous benefits including free student subscriptions to Review of Optometry and Optometric Monthly, practice management guides, the AOSA/AOA placement service, insurance programs, political representation through AOSA-PAC, and most importantly, communication between all schools of optometry carried out by the AOSA trustee. Any academic or clinical concern expressed by the students is brought to the administration via the class reps. Through the help of SA, other students have been provided with the opportunity to participate on various committees for including the Academic and Clinical Advancement Committees, the Presidential search committee, steering committees for accreditation, and the Presidential inauguration.

The academic year '82-'83 has been a year of "settling in," having made our way through the previous transitional changes. The road has been paved to provide a smoother more efficient system of student government which will undoubtedly benefit the ICO community.

FOCUS

The FOCUS is ICO's student newspaper. Co-editors Marty Kornblatt and Jerome Lietz are seen here during an all night layout session. The FOCUS is published spasmodically and is funded by the Student and Alumni Association.

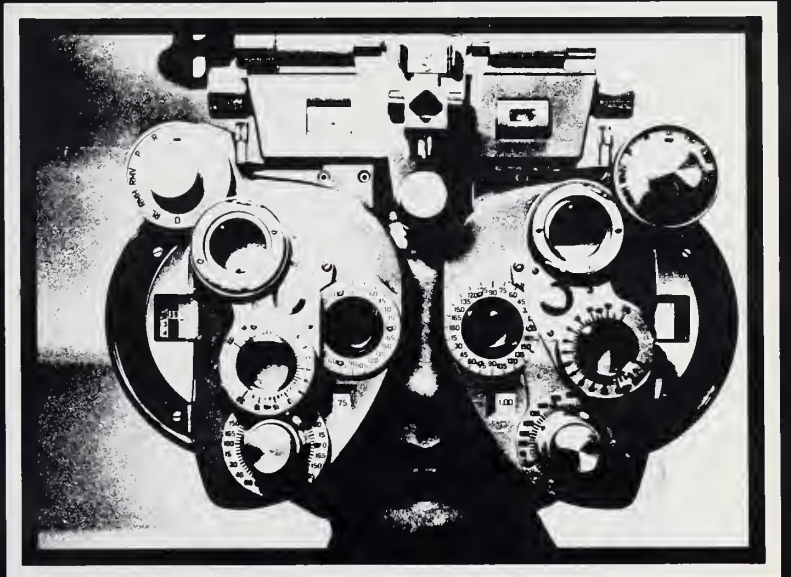

STUDENT AUXILIARY

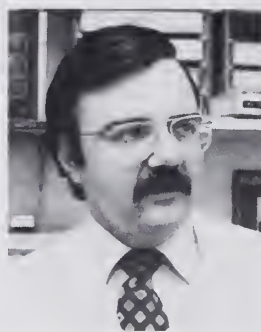

Looking back over the first half of the school year the Auxiliary has had a very successful year. We held an Open House for the new spouses, sponsors an aerobic exercise class at ICO, had a married student cocktail party at Dr. Banwell's home, and coordinated a vision screening for the community which was held at Nativity of our Lord in Bridgeport. As a group we have participated in some fun outings including the Tiffany exhibit held at the Museum of Science and Industry, and a guided tour of Lincoln Park Zoo. The success of all these many outings and projects definitely lies with the great members of this year's Auxiliary.

CONTACT LENSES

ICO's Contact Lens Clinic is one of the more specialized patient service areas at the college. Contact lenses of traditional as well as recently developed design are fitted, meeting a wide range of vision needs. Specialty areas include extended wear, orthokeratology, prosthetics, astigmatic lenses, gas permeable, pediatric and functional therapeutic lenses, bifocal, low vision aids and aphakic contact lenses.

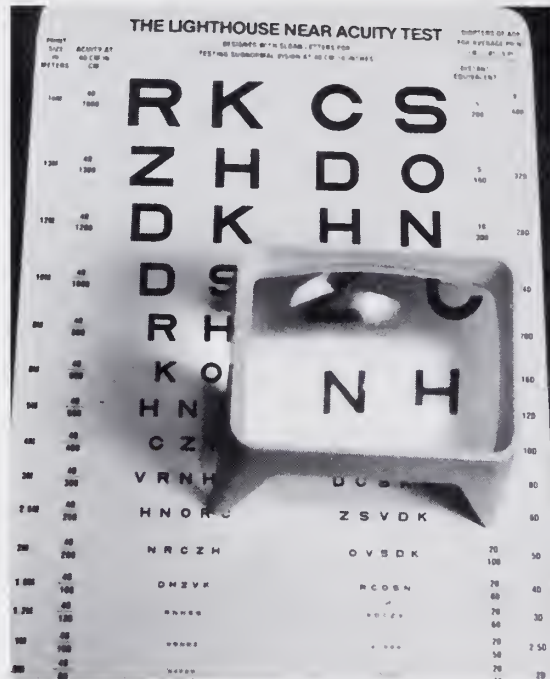

Contact Lens Asst. — Carol Realmo, Vilma Arguilles, Crystal Handy

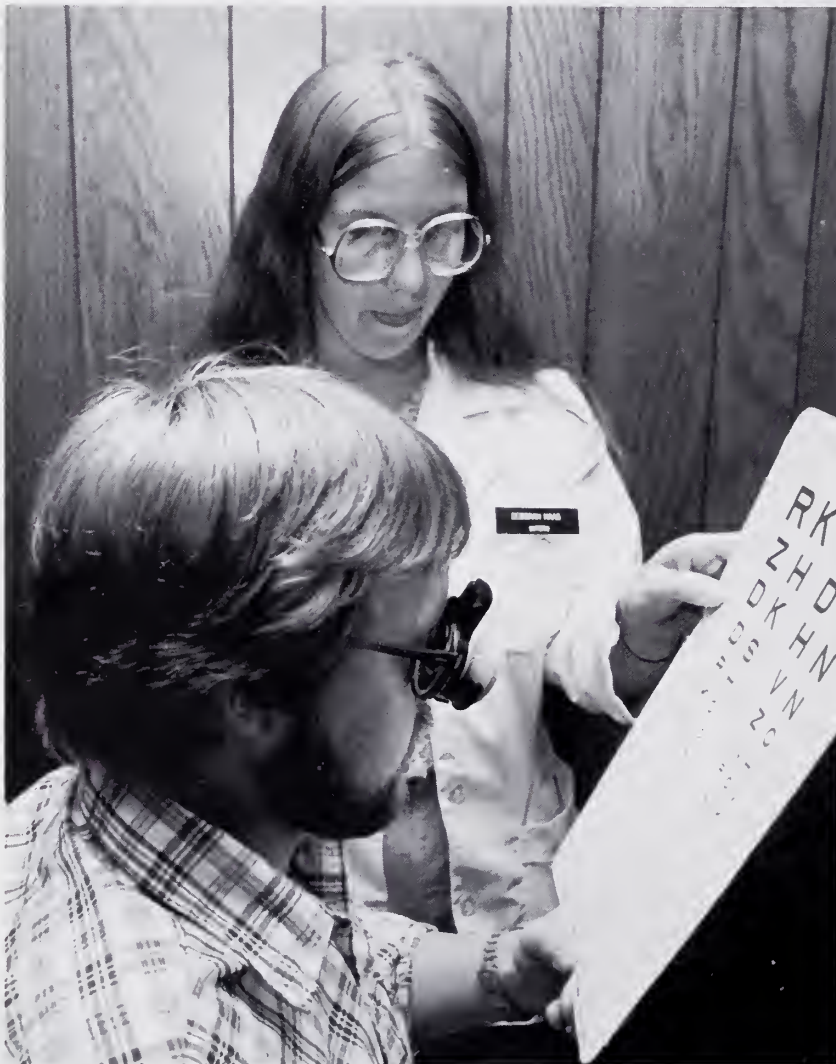

LOW VISION

ICO's Low Vision Clinic was started in 1974. Since its inception, the clinic has experienced a steady growth in patient demand and experience for ICO interns, fellows practitioners. Off campus clinics have been held with special education services in Illinois and two clinics have been established with state school programs for visually impaired children.

Recently, the Low Vision Clinic has completed plans to become multi disciplinary. Arrangements are being made to include rehabilitation consultation services from the psychology department at IIT. The services of a consultant who is a teacher of visually impaired are now available on a volunteer basis. There is a complete variety of optical and accessory aids that are also available.

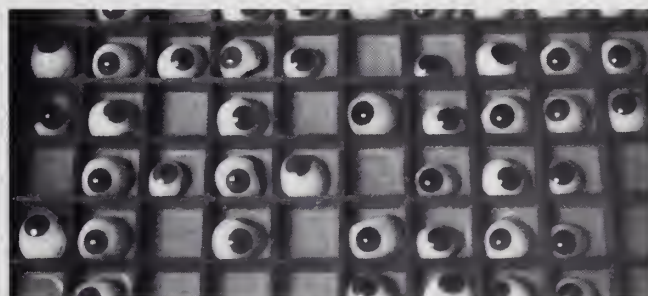

Michelle Levin
Low Vision Coordinator

PROSTHETICS

ICO's Prosthetic Eye Clinic is designed to help individuals with damaged, deformed, or discolored seeing and non-seeing eyes, people who have lost eyes through accident, disease or genetic abnormalities and those already fitted with an artificial eye. The services provided may in some cases improve the vision remaining or make a seeing or nonseeing eye appear more normal. For those already with a prosthesis the clinic can offer a complete health assessment.

DEVELOPMENTAL VISION

The Developmental Vision Clinic serves the needs of those children who have more than blurred vision resulting from a refractive error. Problems refer to the organization of vision behavior from a developmental viewpoint. Examinations include evaluations relative to norms for a general age group. Visual perceptual tests are selected which will best evaluate a child's deficit areas.

EXCEPTIONAL CHILDREN

This clinical program has been unofficially in existence since 1977 when faculty and students conducted research on visual and developmental anomalies associated with the Downs Syndrome Child. Today the specialized clinic serves the mentally or multiple handicapped individual from birth to adult.

Many of the patients served have been diagnosed as Downs, Cerebral Palsy, Autistic, Spina Bifida, Micro and Hydrocephalus, Premature Infants, chromosome anomalies and multiple handicapped.

INFANT CLINIC

ICO's Infant Clinic provides vision care to children from birth to three years of age. Innovative techniques measure both how much and how effectively the child sees. The clinic's goal is to determine the child's current visual functioning level and to enhance it if possible. Infant clinic are involved in research studies to develop new testing methods as well as to provide additional information on the visual status of young children.

VISUAL THERAPY

The Binocular Vision Diagnosis and Therapy Clinic is specifically designed to treat disorders of the visual system. Children and adults are treated for disorders such as amblyopia, strabismus, suppression, and oculomotor and perceptual anomalies.

Therapy consists of in clinic sessions as well as tailored exercises for at home treatment. Fourth year interns conduct patient care working closely with our faculty educators and other professionals.

Amelia Arguilles
Vision Therapy Coordinator

FILES

ELECTRODIAGNOSTICS

ICO's ED clinic provides objective evaluations of health and visual capabilities of the visual system. Three major tests — Visual Evoked Potential (VEP), Electro-Retinogram (ERG) and Electro-Oculogram (EOG) are utilized in this objective exam. The clinic provides services to patients who are referred from within the College Clinic as well as from external clinics and practitioners.

PATH LAB

Patients are sent to ICO's ocular disease clinic if during the general exam it is found that further medical consultation is required. Students are afforded the opportunity to observe all types of eye diseases and abnormalities referred from general clinic. When immediate medical attention is required or emergencies arise ICO refers to one of the several hospitals in the area.

AFFILIATED CLINICS

Part of an intern's experience at ICO includes participation in the affiliated clinic program. Students are able to gain valuable experience in low vision, handicapped and exceptional exams, as well as hospital-based optometric care.

ICO affiliated clinics have included the Chicago Lighthouse for the Blind, Illinois Visually Handicapped Institute, Little City Eye Clinic, the McCormick Boys Club, as well as the Maryville Academy which is shown here.

Maryville Academy, in Des Plaines, was built for the Columbian Exposition held in Chicago in 1893. The facility is a replica of Thomas Jefferson's famed Monticello residence in Virginia. The 35 room mansion now serves 150 resident youth who have been displaced from their home environments.

SCREENINGS

ICO offers vision screening services to surrounding communities. These screenings serve as valuable experiences to the communities as they may identify problems in an asymptomatic population and they also are rewarding, learning tools for the participating interns.

Conventions

This past year ICO students made appearances at the AOA Congress in Boston, the AOSA Congress in Portland, the North Central States Optometric Conference in Minneapolis-St. Paul, and other regional and state conventions. At every convention, students can partake in C.E. courses, talk to sales reps from the different optical companies, and of course, learn to throw a proper convention party.

Let Us Help You Begin Your New Practice

The Bausch & Lomb New Practitioner Program

Congratulations Doctors! We hope to be your partner in eye care for years to come.

We know that having large fitting sets of contact lenses can give a new practice a big boost. However, acquiring the many types of lenses that are required to satisfy the vision requirements of your patients can be very costly. That is why we offer new practitioners a special no-cost trial lens program for every kind of lens that we make.

It's a combination program featuring consignments of BAUSCH & LOMB SOFLENS® (polymacon) Contact Lenses (including bifocal lenses) and a SAMPLER™ set of BAUSCH & LOMB® (hefilcon B) Toric Contact Lenses and BAUSCH & LOMB® CW79™ (lidofilcon B) Contact Lenses for aphakia. Here is how this program works.

After graduation you may consign your first 24 standard spherical lenses and your first 24 bifocal lenses for no charge. Plus, we will send you our SAMPLER™ set of 24 Toric lenses and 10 CW79 lenses for aphakic extended wear for a six-month trial. At the end of six months, you can either buy the SAMPLER™ lenses at a reduced cost or return them without charge. You enjoy free use of the lenses with no financial risk. This program provides you a total of 82 lenses for your new practice.

You may participate in the Bausch & Lomb New Practitioner Program any time during the first 24 months after you graduate. Or, if you enter the military service after graduation, you'll be eligible for the program for 24 months after you leave the service.

When you're ready to begin your practice, call us, toll-free, at 800-828-9030. (In New York 800-462-1720, in Alaska and Hawaii 800-828-6291). We'll have a Bausch & Lomb professional products sales representative contact you with all the details.

YOUR PROFESSIONAL ENVIRONMENT

Everyone is an individual — even in a very specialized field. It is our goal to cater to this individuality. We will work with you to create the professional environment that is right for you. With today's technology, a high degree of efficiency is available to all professionals. We have available the instruments to achieve the degree of efficiency with which you are comfortable.

Although we are one of the larger independent instrument distributors in the country, we are a small company when compared to other industries. We are large enough to offer complete services and small enough to keep an enthusiastic group of professionals on our staff. Of primary importance to you is the fact that our size permits us to give our customers a high level of personal service.

Included in our services is a complete design department with design and consultation services to help you with your decorating needs. We have a new showroom available to you with all the latest equipment; please stop in and visit with us at anytime. We can help you with everything you need to open your new practice and attract new patients.

Dow Corning Ophthalmics Oxygen And Experience Can Solve Your Problems

For several years, Dow Corning Ophthalmics has SILCON[®] been quietly building an arsenal of products and expertise to attack the problems your practice faces.
